- Need a day's respite from the challenges of life? Join us for a peace filled learning experience.
 - Need a relaxing new hobby? Fiber work is soothing and wonderful.
 - Great Weekend “get away” with family or friends.
- Retreat held at Shepherd's Cross, an authentic working farm, just north of Claremore OK on Scenic Route 66.
- Shepherd's Cross hosts a mini wool mill, processing the wool from their flock
- Retreats are augmented by hands on learning tools available in the Educational Farm Museum, and with a collection of fiber arts from around the world.
- Shepherd's Cross is the only Animal Welfare Approved sheep farm in Oklahoma and processes the only Animal Welfare Approved fiber sold in the U.S. (that is chemical free, hormone free, free range, natural)
- Heart of the Shepherd, the non-profit organization (501-C3) that operates at the farm and establishes wool mills in remote, impoverished areas around the world.
- Other Fiber Arts Classes are offered on an individual or group basis throughout the year.
- Come to the farm and enjoy the peace of a few hours spent in the country.
- The Bible Garden is available for guided or self-guided tours; audio or visual or both.
- Shepherd's Shop, a quaint country gift shop, is an event in itself - featuring a host of festive fall, handmade and farm related gifts and wares from many gifted artisans; a year round “craft fair”. Gift shop open every week from 8:30 – 5:30 Thursday, Friday & Saturday.
- Shepherd's Cross is home to Heart of the Shepherd Inc., a public, non-profit Christian organization (501-C3) that teaches Biblical references to the harvest, the animals, farming and gardening. Biblical references are found throughout the farm experience.
- Shepherd's Cross is an accredited Agritourism facility, a Made in Oklahoma Company, a member of the Claremore Farmer's Market, an Animal Welfare Approved sheep farm, a producer for and distribution site for the Oklahoma Food Co-op.
