- Practical, profitable, flock herd health for the working shepherd
- Sheep, goats, alpacas & others
- Much more in this full day!
- Instructor: Dr. Diane Dickinson is a licensed veterinarian with a Bachelors in Agriculture. She has been working with sheep for over 30 years, and travels to many nations, teaching animal husbandry & veterinary medicine.
- Shepherd's Cross is an Animal Welfare Approved sheep farm. The livestock are pasture raised and pasture fed.
- Shepherd's Cross processes wool in the on site mini-wool mill, with minimal processing & chemical free washing.
- The Dickinsons shear their own flock, in the original method of shearing described in Isaiah 53:7
- The Dickinsons provide animal husbandry classes, veterinary care and training, wool mill training and Lamb of God Bible studies around the world, through the non-profit organization Heart of the Shepherd that operates on the farm.
- The primary instructor for the class is Dr. Diane Dickinson, a licensed veterinarian and an agriculturalist, with over 30 years of livestock and farming experience. Her unique perspective of animal husbandry care includes that of a producer, a veterinarian, the small flock & herd, global agriculture, Biblical agriculture, sustainable living, natural production, agritourism and niche markets.
- Shepherd's Cross is a working sheep farm, operated by Mr. Peter & Dr. Diane Dickinson for over twenty years. Other animals on the farm include cattle, alpacas, lamas, donkeys, horses & poultry.
- Class includes instruction, handouts, videos, tutorials & hands on experience. Snacks and beverages provided.
